Judge Watts Parker Declares Lexington Democratic Officials Must Step Down and Out

Monday's Louisville Herald.

At Lexington, Circuit Judge Watts Parker handed down a decision yesterday setting aside the 1927 Lexington city election and declaring the municipal offices now held by Mayor John Skain and his associates vacated by reason of proven fraud, bribery and intimidation by the Democrats on November 5th, 1927.

The entire municipal administration from Mayor to City Engineer, including parts of both Boards of the General Council and the School Board, will be swept into the dust pan by Judge Parker's decision, which will be a "scorcher" and will denounce without equivocation the election practices of Lexington Democrats.

Judge Parker is a Democrat. The testimony and proof in the contest, filed by the Republicans within ten days after the election, which Mayor Skain received a majority of less than 600 votes over W. R. Milward, the Republican nominee, has been overwhelming.

The record covers 15,000 typewritten pages, and the testimony of 900 witnesses was taken. The case probably will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

Gov. Willson probably will be called upon to appoint an entire new administration for the Bluegrass capital. Lexington's 1925 municipal election was the most riotous and disgraceful in its history. Republican voters were kept standing in line for hours at the polls without being given a chance to vote.

Disfranchised by the County Court in arranging the precincts to take from 450 to 800 votes when the statutes provide for a polling place for each 350 voters. Out of a total registration of 9,500, 2,000 have been proven fraudulent.

Bribery by Lexington Democratic Police and Fire Department members and the purchasing by the Democrats of 300 Negro registration certificates, have also been proven, and are a part of the record.

The election was also marked by a double tragedy at one of the polling places. Clyde Campbell, a Republican, was shot and killed by Policeman Michael Murphy, who in turn was killed by Campbell's father, W. R. Campbell, while Murphy was in the act of striking him over the head with his club.

FREE For "Summer Complaint"

The common ailment of these hot days is "Summer Complaint," or diarrhea. It is very annoying and weakening and upsets the stomach. The cause of the trouble usually lies in food and water, which in the summer time are often laden with germs, but with many it is due to eating too much fruit or to eating over-ripe fruit. Whatever the cause it is not good to take an astringent remedy that binds up the bowels and stops the flow too suddenly, but take a reliable, natural laxative like DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN.

Its antiseptic properties remove the germs which have been causing their irritation. Children like it especially because of its gentle action and pleasant taste. Salts and purgative waters, tablets or pills, act so violently as to weaken you still more, and do but temporary good. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is the best remedy you can obtain for constipation, indigestion, summer complaint or summer colic, biliousness, sick headache, etc. All druggists sell it and it costs only 50 cents or $1.00 a large bottle. It is for all members of the family and should be your household remedy for these purposes.

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN and would like to make a test of it before buying in the regular way from their druggist, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE either for themselves or any member of their family by sending name and address to the doctor. The sample will be sent in your home free of charge. In this way you can find out what it will do without cost. Also, if the case presents difficulties that doctors and other remedies seem unable to overcome, write a letter to Dr. Caldwell explaining how the person suffers and he will give you the best MEDICAL ADVICE, based on a half century of experience in stomach, liver and bowel diseases, without charge. Women who have children should use DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. It is a very important subject. The address is: DR. W. B. CALDWELL, 507 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Illinois.

AN INCIDENT OF MORGAN'S ESCAPE

A few years since there died in Boone county, at an advanced age, Charles Benjamin Smith, the youngest grandson of Charles Smith, one of the pioneers of Bourbon county. His home stood on the crest of a hill overlooking the valley in which is situated the celebrated "Big Bone Lick," and not far from the direct road to Cincinnati.

In the early years of the Civil War, Smith owned a horse broken to the gait and possessing the good qualities which insure for Kentucky thoroughbreds their superiority to all other saddle horses. When Cincinnati was occupied by the Federal troops, his wife persistently urged him to take the animal to the "hills of Licking" and hide it where soldiers, who were continually roaming over the country, could not find it. Unwilling, however, to deprive himself of a mount so much more satisfactory than any other he could find, Smith, on various pretexts, deferred this precautionary measure, which he readily promised to perform whenever the matter was mentioned—and that was every time he departed from home.

One Sunday morning he left his home to attend services at a Church in the neighborhood. The hour for dinner passed, then that for supper, and still he had not returned. His wife was in great distress concerning him, unable to imagine any other cause for the delay except that he had been injured or perhaps killed in trying to prevent soldiers from confiscating his steed. Finally, however, long after midnight, she heard his footsteps coming up the hill. Her first thought was, "Well, the Yankees have captured the horse, but, thank Heaven, they didn't get him!" Naturally, expecting to see a woe-begone countenance, she was rather puzzled at his air of elation as he threw his saddle down upon the porch and stepped in at the door which she had opened at his approach. He then explained that during the services a gentleman came in and quietly whispered to him and three or four others to go outside at once. They obeyed, and were told to accompany him to the house of a neighbor.

Here they were introduced to General John M. Morgan, who had made his way thus far after his escape from the Ohio Penitentiary. The conversation through the evening and early part of the night was chiefly confined to devising and discussing methods of reaching the South. Gradually a plan was evolved which met the approval of all. Late that night, to avoid the risk of being seen by chance travelers, the little cavalcade set forth. Morgan rode in a spring wagon with his host; the others were on horseback. At the road leading into Smith's home they halted, as it was necessary that all but the fugitives should be at their homes in time to escape notice from early risers. Morgan had at once fixed upon Smith's horse as the one which he wished to ride; but as Smith, like all of the family to which he belonged, was a man of great size, his saddle was too large to be comfortable for the General and was exchanged for a smaller one. There was a quick dispersal, and Morgan rode away to the South.

When pursuit was close, in the hills of Southern Kentucky, Morgan and Hines exchanged horses. They separated, and Morgan succeeded in reaching Tennessee. Hines, becoming bewildered in the rough country, was captured.

The horse was appropriated by one of the officers. Smith saw it several times afterwards in Cincinnati. Needless to say, he never laid any claim to it.

When its new owner left the city the horse went with him.

The report that the Green Line steamer Tacoma struck a snag in the river near Gallipolis and sank Sunday proved to be untrue. The boat did have some little trouble, but was never in danger, and passed down on her regular trip to Cincinnati but a few hours behind time.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Maysville People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Maysville more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Mrs. Della Means, 323 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"About seven years ago kidney trouble made its appearance in my case, the first symptom being a sharp pain through my kidneys, accompanied by a bearing-down feeling across my hips and loins. Dull, miserable headaches soon began to bother me, and I often became so dizzy that if I did not catch hold of something I would have fallen. I continued to grow worse, until I was often confined to my bed for a week at a time. No remedy I used helped me, and I was in a bad way. Dropsical swellings appeared, and there was an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions. My body also bloated, and it would be impossible to describe the misery I endured. I had about despaired of ever being cured, when I read of a person who had been freed of a similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. Deciding to try them, I procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and I obtained so much relief from the first box that I continued taking the remedy until entirely cured. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

GIVE YOUR EYES A HOLIDAY

Your eyes have been working at least sixteen hours a day and seven days each week, with no time off for lunch. Do you expect them to continue to do this year after year without assistance? If you can't go to the mountains or sea coast, you can, at least, give your eyes a rest by wearing the proper lenses to correct the errors of refraction. Headache, nervousness, indigestion, etc., when caused by eye strain, will be relieved at once by suitable lenses.

There is no one within fifty miles of Maysville who is as thoroughly competent to correct errors of refraction as

J. A. SIMPSON,

Who has his suite of offices in the First National Bank Building.
